INSTRUCTIONS:

This spell must be cast on a Sunday, the day of death and endings. Cast a protective circle and ignite a white candle to begin. Use a circle of blue cloth filled with three drops of feverfew, myrtle, the petals from one white rose, one ivy leaf, and one yellow poppy. Take a white felt heart, cut it in half, then sew it together with blue thread as you charge the charm with this verse:

"Universe I call to thee / To kill this ache inside of me. / By all the power of three times three / Please heal my heart and set me free."

Lay the heart among the herbs, adding a copper coin to draw new love. Tie everything together with white thread and wear it close to your breast for nine days. Final Steps: On the tenth day, burn the herbal charm as you repeat the chant. Allow a further nine days for the spell to work.
